MAYSVILLE, KY., THURSDAY, JUNE 30, 1887.

PRICE ONE CENT.

For Weakness, Convalescence, Loss of Appetite, &c., &c. It is the only true medicine that is not injurious. It Enriches the Blood, Invigorates the System, Restores Appetite, Alids Digestion. It does not blacken or injure the teeth, causes no tooth-ach, &c., &c. It is a true medicine, do Dr. G. H. BIXLEY, a leading physician of Springfield, Ohio, says:

"Brown's Iron Bitters is a thoroughly good medicine. I use it in my practice, and find it equal to all other forms of iron. In weakness, or a low condition of the system, Brown's Iron Bitters is usually a positive necessity. It is all that is claimed for it."

Dr. W. N. WATERS, 12th Thirty-second Street, Georgetown, O., says: "Brown's Iron Bitters is the tonic of the world. Nothing better. It creates appetite, gives strength and improves digestion."

WASHINGTON TELEGRAMS.

THE STATESMEN BURIED IN THE CONGRESSIONAL CEMETERY.

An Institution Kept Up by a Church Parish—Partial List of Those Who There Sleep the Eternal Slumber—Cabinet Change Rumors—Washington Affairs.

WASHINGTON, June 30.—The Congressional cemetery where the remains of so many distinguished people of National record, and where are found monuments to the memory of many others, is likely to be brought a little more into notice by some improvements going on the city. Massachusetts avenue and Pennsylvania avenue as laid out in the plan of the city run just on either side of the cemetery. Massachusetts avenue is now being paved and made available for driving in that direction, and the new bridge to be erected over the Potomac at the end of Pennsylvania avenue, just beyond the city limits, makes that avenue more of a thoroughfare than formerly.

So the distinguished dead will not rest in the absolute silence and almost neglect from the general public that has seemed to be the case in former years. This remark should not be construed so as to mean that the grounds themselves are neglected, for the Cemetery association keeps them in good condition, whether the relatives of distinguished dead give them any attention or not. The cemetery is not in any sense a public or National one, as its name would indicate, but is owned and managed by the parish of Christ Episcopal church of this city. It acquired the title of Congressional cemetery from the fact that senators and representatives who died while in the performance of their duties in this city were buried in the graveyard. The first who was buried there was Hon. Uriah Tracy, senator from Connecticut, who died in April, 1807. He had been a major general in the Revolutionary army, and when he died congress appropriated money to place a monument over his remains.

This precedent once established was continued, and from that time until 1861 a monument or cenotaph was placed in this burial ground in memory of every senator or representative who died, whether he was buried there or not. The next distinguished burial was that of Edward Darby, a representative from New Jersey, who died July 28, 1808. Near by his resting place is the lot of the Dear family, who were friends of Washington. Then there is the tomb of Elbridge Gerry, vice president of the United States, who died on his way to the capital to preside over the senate on November 23, 1814, aged seventy years, "thus fulfilling," according to the inscription, "his own memorable injunction, 'it is the duty of every citizen, though he may have but one day to live, to devote that day to the good of his country.'" The monument was erected by congress. Not far off is the grave of Maj. Gen. George Clinton, who was also a vice president, surmounted by a monument which contains a bas relief portrait of the deceased which is said to be an excellent likeness.

As everybody knows there have been no burials of congressmen in this cemetery for some years. Probably the last one was that of Senator Bowen, of West Virginia, who died in 1864, and was buried there. For years congress went on erecting "cenotaphs" in the cemetery to the memory of rulers who died during their term of service, but this practice has been abandoned. These "cenotaphs" were cubes, perhaps four feet each way, surmounted by a round block, which irresistably reminds you of a boy in a country store. On each was cut the name of the member in whose memory it was erected.

One of the most interesting monuments is that erected to the celebrated Indian Puhuna-la-la, who was a chief of the Choctaw tribe. Quite a number of Indians are buried in this cemetery, but none of the others are marked in so pretentious a style as the celebrated Choctaw.

The body of Sergeant Cross, which was brought back from the frozen north, now rests in the Congressional cemetery, and a monument of black granite has been erected over the grave, which states simply that the deceased was born January 20, 1843, and perished while exploring the Arctic region January 18, 1884.

Appointment Talk.

WASHINGTON, June 30.—Senator M. C. Butler, of South Carolina, is quoted as saying he believes Secretary Lamar will be appointed to the vacancy on the supreme bench, and that Senator Colquitt, of Georgia, will probably succeed Mr. Lamar as secretary of the interior. The Georgia senator denies that he has been offered the place, but it seems to be understood among his friends that he can have it if he desires.

Senator Colquitt has been strongly identified with the temperance movement in Georgia, and some doubt has been expressed as to the advisability of the president inviting him into the cabinet on that account.

A prominent southern Democrat said yesterday: "It will do Mr. Cleveland no harm in the south to take such a strong temperance man into his cabinet as Mr. Colquitt. The sentiment throughout the south among the best people is in favor of temperance. It might have some effect in New York and other northern states, but I don't believe Mr. Cleveland will pay much attention to that phase of the subject."

Postoffice Changes.

WASHINGTON, June 30.—The following presidential postoffices will be relegated to the fourth class on July 1, the receipts being less than the minimum required for the presidential class: Colorado, Silver Cliff; Idaho, Ketchum; Illinois, Griggsville, Savoile; Iowa, Elkader; Kansas, Carbondale, Fort Leavenworth; Missouri, Wiscaiset; Michigan, Grand Lodge, Mosenc, Fowlerville; Missouri, Albany; Montana, White Sulphur Springs; New York, Angelica; Ohio, New Richmon; Waverly; Pennsylvania, Knox North Clarion, Punxsutawney; Virginia, Martinsville; Texas, Cisco.

Board of Pension Appeals.

WASHINGTON, June 30.—Secretary Lamar reappointed for one year the following members of the board of pension appeals: George Barber, of Kentucky; John A. Judson, of New York; P. J. Rogers, of New York; R. D. Graham, of North Carolina; S. W. Rittenhouse, of District of Columbia; R. F. Hill, of Michigan.

THE FIRE RECORD.

Elizabethtown, Kentucky, Almost Destroyed by Fire—Other Losses.

ELIZABETHTOWNE, Ky., June 30.—A fire broke out in Elliott's drug store here late last night and spread with alarming rapidity, notwithstanding strenuous efforts of the fire department. At one time the flames got beyond the control of the firemen and it was feared the entire town would be destroyed. Building after building was burned, but the firemen worked hard, and, aided by the citizens, succeeded in checking the flames. One-fourth of the business portion of the town was destroyed, causing an aggregate loss of $100,000. The insurance is placed at $20,000. The fire was caused by the explosion of a lamp in Elliott's drug store.

Caused By a Locomotive Spark.

AURORA, Ill., June 30.—E. R. Allen's warehouse, planing mill and saw factory burned to the ground this morning. The fire was caused by sparks from a locomotive. The ice house of C. Grampy & Co. and several small buildings near by were also consumed. The City Flour mill, two blocks away, caught from sparks from the warehouse and was completely ruined. The total loss is about $30,000, with only $5,000 insurance, and that on the City mill.

A Fifty Thousand Fire Loss.

WEST STEWARTSTOWN, N. H., June 30.—A disastrous fire occurred here at 4:30 this morning, which destroyed a large building owned by E. D. Parker, containing a large furniture establishment, wooden mill, machine shop and carpenter shop. A large amount of lumber was also burned, and it was only by the efforts of the citizens that the business part of the town was saved. The loss is upwards of $50,000; insurance light.

Caused By a Fire Cracker.

JAMESTOWN, N. Y., June 30.—A boy lighted a fire cracker in the confectionery store of S. H. Kelly, on Main street, this morning. Exploding, it ignited a quantity of fireworks piled in the window. These exploded and the store took fire. Before the flames were extinguished the building and three others adjoining were damaged so they will have to be rebuilt. The total loss will be $5,000, with a small insurance.

Another Small Blaze.

CHICAGO, June 30.—A special to the Evening Journal from New Holland, Ill., says:

The mill and elevator of D. M. Bumer burned this morning with over five thousand bushels of grain, which is fully covered by insurance.

Did Not Represent the Church.

NEW YORK, June 30.—The Tribune's Baltimore special says that Cardinal Gibbons yesterday declared Dr. McGlynn mistaken in supposing that the holy see has ever expressed any intention of sending a nuncio to this country, or that any such intention is entertained. Dr. McGlynn's impression to the contrary may have arisen from the fact that a Catholic prelate once called upon President Cleveland and broached the question of having a papal ambassador at Washington. This prelate was not a representative man in the church and acted on his own responsibility, and without the knowledge or sanction of the church leaders here or abroad.

Fast Steamboat Travel.

CHICAGO, June 30.—Two remarkable achievements by steamboats were reported yesterday. The Susquehanna, which arrived here at 11 o'clock in the morning made the run from Mackinaw City in twenty-two hours, beating the best record by one hour and twenty minutes. The Tioga which came in Monday night, completed the round trip from Chicago to Buffalo and return in six days and twenty hours, including the time spent in handling cargoes at Buffalo, where she discharged 2,600 tons of grain and merchandise and took on 1,000 tons of back freight. It is the fastest round trip ever made between the two ports.

A Successful Mission.

NEW YORK, June 30.—It is announced that Mr. P. Grace's mission to England on behalf of the Peruvian government has been successful. The holders of the Peruvian debt have signed the agreement suggested by Mr. Grace, whereby the committee of the bondholders will operate the Guano and mineral lands, and control the railroads and water routes and banking privileges of Peru for sixty-six years, only small royalties being reserved by the government. Mr. Grace's valuable concession of the Corro de Pasco mines is not impaired by the arrangement.

Strikers Arrested.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., June 30.—In connection with the strike of the masons' helpers there have been twelve arrests in all, and the ring-leaders are undoubtedly captured. Work continued all day except at one or two places, the contractors getting all the men they required. The Contractors' association held a meeting and passed a resolution to the effect that if the men wished to return to work they must withdraw from the union. The contractors are determined not to be dictated to and the authorities will see that they are protected.

Can Only Be Stopped By Force.

WINNIPEG, Man., June 30.—Rumors are current here that the Dominion government has actually taken steps to prevent the building of the Red river road. The local government, backed by the people, will only be prevented from going to the boundary line by a display of force. The Canadian Pacific is preparing to move workshops to Fort William simultaneously with commencement of work on the Red river.

Cotton Mills Shut Down.

WOONSOCKET, R. I., June 30.—The three large cotton mills at Manville have shut down indefinitely on account of the weavers' strike, and the mill officials have notified all former employees to quit the company's tenements. The operatives, who number 3,000, are mostly French-Canadians and are unorganized.

Guilty of Manslaughter.

LONDON, O., June 30.—Noah Harper, the negro who brutally beat his seven-year-old child near Rosedale April 4 so that it died, has been found guilty of manslaughter. Maud Russell, his paramour, who was jointly indicted with him, still languishes in jail.

THE FIDELITY FAILURE.

A VISIT TO CHICAGO TO INVESTIGATE THE WHEAT DEAL.

The Information Obtained Kept a profound Secret—Statement from the Chicago Board of Trade—The President of the Cincinnati National Bank Resigns.

CINCINNATI, June 30.—Meers, Trenholm, Bruce and Kittredge paid a flying visit to Chicago to investigate the wheat deal. What information these gentlemen did gain is treasured among their professional secrets, except that, as intimated, they learned what became of a large amount of money that disappeared from the Fidelity prior to the failure.

Reply to a communication from Col. Maxwell George F. Stone, secretary of the Chicago board of trade, says substantially that their board acted under an emergency rule of the board and made no new one, and that they did it in the interest of general business. Indeed, they did not go so far as the rule permitted. The rule allowed them to make all places of storage regular from which delivery could be made for shipment at regular warehouse rates. They required that such delivery should be made through a permanently regular elevator. In a word, they made the cars of wheat appendages of the elevators.

The decision of the Federal courts have gone so far as to declare directors of banks trustees for the benefit of stockholders,

DAILY EVENING BULLETIN.

DAILY, EXCEPT SUNDAY.

ROSSER & McCARTHY,
Proprietors.

RATES OF SUBSCRIPTION.

THE DAILY BULLETIN will be delivered to any part of the city at 6 cents a week, or one year for $3.

THE DAILY BULLETIN to any postoffice in the United States, postage prepaid, at twenty-five cents per month or three dollars per year.

THURSDAY EVE. JUNE 30, 1887.

THE Democrats of Bracken are organizing rallying committees in every precinct.

THERE has been enough rowin' going on in Rowan, and that county ought to have a rest.

THE Prohibitionists of Fayette County have nominated J. C. Woodward for the Legislature.

HON. HIRAM G. Barbour has announced himself as a Republican candidate for Representative from Clark County.

GENERAL BUCKNER will speak at Augusta, July 4th, at 8 o'clock in the evening, and at Brooksville the next afternoon—July 5th.

"STRANGE but nevertheless true." A "renegade" Democrat heads the Republican State ticket this year. What are the "true-blues" going to do about it?

THE Government officers are trying to learn where a large part of the Fidelity Bank's funds went. Probably that fellow Harper gave the money to some Cincinnati's poor widows and orphans.

COLONEL A. M. SWOPE is announced to speak at Carlisle next Saturday afternoon in the interest of the Republican State ticket. It will take a deal more than the Colonel's eloquence to swerve the steriling Democracy of Nicholas.

IT is a fact not generally known that Colonel Bradley, the Republican nominee for Governor, was a Democrat for years after the war. He was Chairman of the Democratic Executive Committee of Garrard County until 1863 or 1870.

HON. FRANK DAVIS, of New Richmond, has "cornered" the Democratic nomination for Judge in the Brown—Clermont district. The convention will be held at Georgetown to-day, and Davis' nomination is considered a foregone conclusion.

THIRTY Storekeepers and Gaugers have been "laid off" in the Louisville district. The shutting down of the distilleries has caused the suspension. Nothing for the "boys" to do, and under a Democratic administration the laborer has to earn his wages.

JOHN M. CAMPBELL, in a card in the Carlisle Mercury this week, gives his reasons for declining the postoffice at that place. The salary is $1,000, and he found after calculating all expenses for office rent, assistant &c., he would have but $150 left for the support of his family.

THE Labor Record, of Louisville, charged Senator Bryan, Democratic nominee for Lieutenant Governor, with having supported the law under which Kentucky convicts are worked outside of the prison walls. The Record evidently didn't know what it was talking about. Senator Bryan was asked about the matter recently, and in his reply said:

"The statement is absurd. The law under which convicts are worked outside of the penitentiary in Kentucky was approved in April, 1880, while I was not elected to the Legislature until 1885. Hence, I could not possibly have voted for it. Besides that, I am earnestly opposed to convict labor, and it was a pleasure to report the bill at the last session of the Legislature to keep the convicts out of the mines. The Labor Record evidently had some bad information when it attacked me upon this score."

Spelling Simplified.

The initial number of "spelling," the official organ of the Spelling Reform Association, has been received. It is published at Boston, and its object is to simplify the present method of English spelling. In explaining the importance of this move, the editor says:

"Spelling confronts us early. The child leaves the cradle to wrestle with its difficulties, and the more he learns and does in the world, the more he has to spell, the more he is spell about. If he remains obscure, perhaps because spelling choked his early hopes and efforts, he can not escape spelling. If he achieves fame, he sets in motion thousands of pens and presses which will keep spelling about him long after he is dead. In any case, he must spell to the day of his death; and his survivors have then to spell his epitaph, and to read the proofs to see that it is spelt correctly. Not a book, not a newspaper, not a letter, not a sign, not a name, but bring up spelling. Next to speech itself—more than speech in the importance of matter communicated; for men speak is mostly trivial—spelling is the great means of communication among mankind. The English-speaking race communicates more, and has more to communicate, than the rest of mankind. It communicates by means of English spelling. And English spelling is the worst there is."

It will be many a day before such a reform is brought about, although such distinguished scholars as David Swing, David Dudley Field, W. D. Whitney, Francis J. Child and others are in favor of it.

Stock and Crops.

The wheat crop in the vicinity of Hillsboro, Ky., will not pan out as well as expected.

In portions of Fleming County but little tobacco has been set out, owing to the low prices of a few months ago.

The fastest heat made in a race to harness this season is 2:17½, by the pacer, L. C. Lee, at Denver, Col., May 24th.

The American Derby, at Chicago, was won by D. J. McCarthy's C. H. Todd. There were fourteen started. The purse amounted to $13,940.

The tobacco boom has created a sensation among farmers, and it is more than probable that a fair crop will be raised in this county, says the Mt. Olivet Tribune. The largest and best corn crop in many years is growing, the wheat crop is large and fine, there is a full crop of vegetables of all kinds, the county is well supplied with cattle, sheep and hogs, and the hay yield will be simply immense. The outlook is decidedly encouraging.

TEN Broeck, one of the greatest race horses ever foaled, died this week at the home of his owner, Nantura stock farm, in Woodford County, Ky., of paralysis. He was the property of Frank B. Harper, and has been ever since he was three years old. Mr. Harper was once asked by a man who had the money to spend if $75,000 would be any inducement to part with him. He replied, "Ten Broeck is not for sale."

Pithy Points from Washington.

Had it not been for whisky Marshal Whitaker, of Georgetown, O., would he alive to-day.

Had it not been for rum Marshal Whitaker's wife and children would not to-day be without husband and father.

Had it not been for liquor Marshal Whitaker's wife and children would not to-day be mourning for him whom they never more shall see.

Had it not been for the devilish thing of strong-drink Marshal Whitaker would to-day be in health and strength, instead of in his coffin.

Whisky nerves men's arms to assassinate, no matter whether they obtain it at a drug-store, grocery or saloon; and men who sell it are responsible for the consequence, and should be so held.

MEMBERS of Canton Maysville No. 2, I. O. O. F., are requested to meet in their hall Friday evening at 8 o'clock sharp.

G. M. D.

Walking down Broadway is very pleasant when you feel well, and T—K—never felt better than when his friend asked him how he got over that severe cough of his so speedily. "Ah, my boy," said T—, "G. M. D. did it!" And his friend wondered what G. M. D. meant. He knew it did not mean a good many doctors, for T—K—had tried a dozen in vain. "I have it," said he, just hitting the nail on the head, "you mean Dr. Pierces 'Golden Medical Discovery,' or Gold Medal Deserved, as my friend J—S— always dubs it." Sold by drug-gists.

We accidentally overheard the following dialogue on the streets yesterday:

Jones—Smith, why don't you stop that disgusting hawking and spitting?

Smith—How can I? You know I am a martyr to catarrh.

J—Do as I did. I had the disease in its worst form but I am well now.

S—What did you do for it?

J—I used Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. It cured me and it will cure you.

S—I've heard of it, and by Jove, I'll try it.

J—Do so. You'll find it at all the drug stores in town.

THE usual majority is promised the Democratic ticket in Fleming County.

Most Excellent.

J. J. Atkins, Chief of Police, Knoxville, Tenn., writes: "My family and I are beneficiaries of your most excellent medicine, Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption; having found it to be all that you claim for it, desire to testify to its virtue. My friends to whom I have recommended it, praise it at every opportunity."

Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption is guaranteed to cure coughs, colds, bronchitis, asthma, croup and every affection of throat, chest and lungs. Trial bottles free (Large size $1.00) at the Drug Stores of J. C. Pecor & Co., and S. P. Campbell & Co., of Aberdeen Ohio.

Brace Up.

You are feeling depressed, your appetite is poor, you are bothered with headache, you are fidgety, nervous and generally out of sorts, and want to brace up. Brace up, but not with stimulants, spring medicines, or bitters, which have for their basis very cheap, bad whisky, and which stimulate you for an hour, and then leave you in worse condition than before. What you want is an alternative that will purify your blood, start healthy action of liver and kidneys, restore your vitality, and give renewed health and strength. Such a medicine you will find in Electric Bitters, and only 50 cents a bottle at the drug stores of J. C. Pecor & Co., and S. P. Campbell & Co., of Aberdeen Ohio.

Buckle's Arnica Salve.

The best salve in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns, and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by J. C. Pecor & Co.

OHIO PROHIBITIONISTS.

Proceedings of the State Convention at Delaware—Prospective Candidates.

DELAWARE, O., June 30.—The Prohibition State convention was called to order at 2 o'clock this afternoon by B. S. Higley, of Youngstown, the chairman of the state executive committee, and the following temporary officers were chosen: Chairman, Rev. C. Elwood Nash, of Akron; secretary, L. B. Logan, of Youngstown; assistant secretaries, Rev. L. W. Hagedorn, of Cincinnati, and Rev. E. B. Lewis, of New Holland.

The convention then adjourned until tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock. The most prominent mentioned candidates for governor are: C. L. Work, of Portsmouth; Martin Redkey, of Cleveland, and W. H. Doane, of Cleveland, with the chances now in favor of the latter. Hon. Gideon T. Stewart, of Norwalk, is sure of the nomination for supreme court judge. H. R. Smith will be again nominated for state of state.

He says He Den's Drunk.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 30.—In the course of the performance last night of a border drama at the museum here Capt. Jack Crawford, the noted poet scot who was in a box—became greatly excited, and leaping on to the stage, he struck two of the stage Indians heavy blows in the face, knocking them headlong, blackening an eye of one and cutting open the lips of the other. Crawford was quieted down after a time and he apologized, saying that he could not bear to see his old time friend Wild Bill pressed hard by savages, even on the mimeto stage. He said, further, that he does not drink intoxicating beverages.

Reward for the Ravenna Murderers.

ALPENA, Mich., June 30.—Capt. Hoon, of the Cleveland police, arrived last night and identified the three men captured here by Sheriff Lynch as Morgan, Hanley and Harrington, who rescued the Cleveland burglar, Harry McMunn, from officers at Ravenna, O., after killing Detective Hulligan. The men were stopping with F. D. Williams, a brother-in-law of Morgan. McMunn was with them but escaped. Sheriff Lynch by this capture is entitled to the reward of $16,000 offered by the Cleveland and Ohio authorities.

Guarding a Well.

BUFFALO, N. Y., June 30.—A special from Springville, says that a guard has been placed around the new well now being drilled on the Coon farm at Zoar, five miles from Springville, and that considerable excitement prevails over a reported big strike of oil. Drilling is being pushed rapidly.

The Lily to Become a Citizen.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 30.—Mrs. Langtry has taken out the first papers necessary to become a naturalized citizen of the United States.

NATURAL GAS

Struck at a Depth of Three Hundred and Fifty Feet.

Affording a Flame Seven Feet High. Indications are Strong for a Good Gas Field.

The contractors began boring for gas last week on the property of Messrs. Ball and Shackleford, near the old race track, in Chester. Work has been prosecuted vigorously ever since, with the exception of a day or so, when a delay was caused by a break in the machinery.

At a depth of three hundred and fifty feet, a vein of gas was struck this morning about 9 o'clock. When lighted the flame burned to the height of seven feet from the mouth of the casing.

The vein was struck in the rock known as the Trenton limestone, and has the characteristic petroleum order of a good quality of natural gas.

The driller, who has sunk a number of wells, considers the indications quite favorable for good gas field.

Not Bad Marksmanship.

A Flemingsburg special to the Cincinnati Enquirer says: "The excuse that is offered, or, rather, the reason assigned for the bad marksmanship displayed by the Sheriff's posse in the recent killing of the Tollivers at Morehead is that those who escaped did so by the order of the Sheriff and the leaders of the Vigilantes, because they were wanted alive for their evidence at trials which will be held. In fact, the order was positive that under no circumstances must they be injured; and so they escaped for the time. This is authentic, and comes from a man who knows exactly what he is talking about."

The River Gives Up Its Dead.

The remains of James Arthur Carr, the nine-year-old lad who was drowned Tuesday evening, were found early this morning at the elevator landing, where the accident happened. Harvey Lyons and other employees of Owens, Parker & Co. were moving some coal barges at the time, when the dead body suddenly came to the surface. It was taken from the water by the men, who at once summoned Coroner M. T. Cockrell. An inquest was held, and the jury's verdict was in accordance with the facts as heretofore set forth.

The remains were taken charge of by Myall & Shackleford and the burial will take place this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Marvin—Leggett.

The marriage of Gwynne L. Marvin and Miss Elizabeth F. T. Leggett was solemnized yesterday at high noon in the M. E. Church at Ripley, the pastor, Rev. A. D. Raleigh, speaking the words that made the happy twain one. The church, which had been handsomely decorated for the occasion, was crowded by the friends of the couple. Miss Field Leggett, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and Chambers Baird acted as the groom's "best man." Messrs. J. Frank Ellis, of this city, Dr. George Tyler, of Russellville, O., and Elmer Galbraith and Charlie Newcomb, of Ripley, acted as ushers. After the ceremony, the guests repaired to the home of the bride where an elegant wedding breakfast was served.

Later the couple left by the St. Lawrence for Chicago and Detroit, where the honeymoon will be spent.

The groom is one of Aberdeen's most prominent young merchants, while the bride is one of Ripley's loveliest daughters.

Among the guests present were: Mrs. Parker Bradford and daughters Misses May and Carrie, of this county; Miss Calvert, Lexington; Miss Jennie Manner, Peoria, Ill.; Miss Marvin and Mrs. Simmons, of Aberdeen; and Dr. and Mrs. George Tyler, of Russellville.

Among the many handsome wedding presents, were an elegant Steinway grand piano, from the groom to the bride, and a solid silver tea service from Mr. Parker Bradford.

THERE has been a number of reports of late that Winfield Buckler, who has been in the asylum at Lexington for the past year, was much better. A correspondent of the Louisville Commercial writes that the Superintendent says this is not true. The only change in Buckler's condition was that he had become somewhat quieter, but if he were excited in the least he would again become a ravaging maniac. The Superintendent said that it now took a suit of clothes a day to run him, as he would tear them into shreds at night.

WILLIAM LEWIS and wife, a colored couple living on Lawrence Creek, had their examining trial yesterday before Squire Pickett, at his home in the country. They were charged with assaulting and beating Mrs. Alice Crawford, who keeps a grocery in that neighborhood. Mrs. Crawford received several painful wounds on the head by being struck with a rock. Lewis and his wife were placed under bonds of $100 each to keep the peace, and were held in $100 bail each to appear at the next term of the Circuit Court, and answer the charge.

MRS. NATHAN GENTRY, her son, N. B. Gentry, and the latter's wife and some other parties became involved in a family quarrel at Richmond, Ky., one day this week, at the house of Mrs. Catherine Cusick. During the quarrel, Wm. Fauconer, brother of Gentry's wife, appeared and struck Gentry on the head with a stick, making the blood flow freely.

Such an excitement followed that Mrs. Cusick fell prostrated and died in a few minutes. She was probably eighty years old. Her husband was an architect, and built the great amphitheater at that place twenty years ago. Gentry and his mother at once left town together in a buggy.

IRISH NATIONAL LEAGUE.

ITS SUPPRESSION THE OBJECT OF THE CRIMES BILL.

An Organization to Which Ireland Owes a Debt of Gratitude Which She Cannot Well Repay—Preparing to Resist Coercion Measures—Other Foreign News.

LONDON, June 30.—As the time of the inevitable passage and remorseless enforcement of the crimes bill draws near, the Irish National League, against which organization the bill is chiefly aimed and whose suppression is really the foundation stone upon which the act rests, is actively engaged in devising and executing means of averting the crushing weight of coercion, which threatens its life, and seeking not only to survive the coming storm, but to continue its work during the prevalence of the dread visitation.

To the National League more than to any other organization, party, faction or individual, Ireland owes a debt of gratitude greater than in her present helpless condition she can well pay, and to the same fearless, tireless and noble-hearted band of patriots the English government owes an accumulation of hatred and injustice, born of its humiliation under the repeated triumphs of the quick-witted leaders over the phlegmatic British officials.

When the coercion bill was introduced in the house of commons Thomas Sexton was reported to have said that if the National League were suppressed in Ireland it would remove its headquarters to England, out of the jurisdiction of the overcolon act, and continue its work under the shadow of the palace of Westminster.

Little attention was paid to the remark at the time, if indeed the gentleman to whom it was ascribed ever uttered it, but the idea quoted as his is likely to be carried out on a large scale. Calmly and quietly but determinedly and surely agents of the league are establishing their branches throughout England, and with the same absence of anything indicating the purpose of its leaders, but with special reference to permanency of location the organizing is entrenching itself in various parts of Ireland where discovery by the millions of the law will be next to impossible, and at the same time extremely unpleasant, if not positively unhealthy for the minion that accidentally stumbles over one of the retreats.

Though, as it may be again said, Ireland owes much to the National League, there has never been a time since that organization came forth from the Land League that its maintenance, its absolute integrity and its peculiar performance of its particular function has been so necessary to the prosperity of Erin as now, when a law for its extermination is in the last stages of legislative incubation. When the men who have for years been persecuted, ostensibly because they were Catholics, find themselves if not altogether distrusted and on the eve of being deserted by their spiritual head, at least in danger of being used to further the temporal interests of the church at the expense of their liberty they naturally cling to the friend whose every act has been in their behalf and in furtherance of the end of their freedom.

To attempt to prevent the self-enforcement of this law of human nature would be as futile as to endeavor to convince the Tory government that it isn't as speedily as its thick skull will permit butting out its brains against the wall of popular disfavor. The people of Ireland are aware of the fact that without the National League they haven't a friend in the world upon whom to rely for assistance in their dire extremity, and the men who compose that body, and who are themselves of the people, have shown by the continued warfare against injustice and oppression that has marked the existence of the League, that they may be depended upon to fight coercion as desperately as they have fought everything in the past, whether legalized or not, that has threatened Irishmen with disaster to their homes, with the alternative of imprisonment or flight as the penalty of defending them. The National League will not be suppressed.

Prince Albert Victor in Dublin.

DUBLIN, June 30.—Prince Albert Victor, in a speech to-day thanked in the name of the queen, the officials and citizens of the city of Dublin, for the loyal addresses and courtesy he had received. He expressed himself as highly gratified with his reception, and said that he was very glad that efforts were now being made, which would materially advance the cause and add to the welfare of Ireland. He sincerely hoped that these efforts would result in a complete success.

The Sultan Angry.

LONDON, June 30.—Dispatches from the east state that the porte has been greatly exasperated by France's threat of war relative to the signing of the Anglo-Turkish Egyptian convention. It is now believed that the sultan will finally sign the papers on Monday, according to agreement. The porte has declined to concede the management of the Asiatic railways under its control to a syndicate of Frenchmen.
